The dictionary defines culture as "the quality in a person or society that arises from a concern for what is regarded as excellent in arts, letters, manners, and scholarly pursuits." Writers from near and far have praised the uniqueness of New Orleans music, art, food, people... from John Kennedy Toole (A Confederacy of Dunces) "Leaving New Orleans also frightened me considerably. Outside of the city limits the heart of darkness, the true wasteland begins." To Tom Piazza in the first pages of Why New Orleans Matters, "New Orleans inspires the kind of love that very few cities do... New Orleans has a mythology, a personality, a soul, that is large, and has touched people around the world. It has its own music, its own cuisine, its own way of talking, its own architecture, its own smell, its own look and feel." Or Chris Rose in I Dead in the Attic, "...the harmonic convergence of our food, our music, our creativity, our eccentricity, our neighborhoods, and our joy of living. All at once." New Orleans has a "cultcha" all its own and that's not even mentioning the world-class shows and exhibits that are on the schedule to visit here in the upcoming year.

There's no place on earth more brimming with "cultcha" than New Orleans. Celebrate it at Place St. Charles 17th Annual Salute to the Arts THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

Yes, culture is something New Orleans has in spades so it seems especially appropriate just past the fifth anniversary of Hurricane Katrina that Place St. Charles celebrates New Orleans own arts and cultural heritage again via its' 17TH ANNUAL SALUTE TO THE ARTS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. Everyone throughout the CBD and beyond is invited to discover the rich and varied arts calendar happening in New Orleans with over a dozen of the major arts organizations and museums gathering in Place St. Charles' lobby to present their seasonal line up and sell tickets and memberships. The best seats always go first so get your tickets early. Place St. Charles makes it easy and convenient to plan your personal arts agenda for the coming season.

After you pick up a delicious lunch in the food court, relax and enjoy a ballet performance by the New Orleans Ballet Association (NOBA) at 11:30 a.m.

At 12 noon you will have the opportunity to enjoy a selection of fine operatic performances brought to you by The New Orleans Opera Association. The performance will include excerpts from Gershwin's Porgy and Bess, the first opera of the season on Oct. 15 and 17.

SOMETHING TO BOO ABOUT

HALLOWEEN HAPPENING FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29 • 11 A.M. - 1 P.M.

Howl down to the 14th Floor lobby on Friday, October 29 for a ghost of a good time. Place St. Charles' Halloween Happening is taking place from 11a.m. to 1 p.m. Have your palm read or see what the future holds in a tarot card deck. By popular demand, the bone reader will be back too.

Lots of tricks, lots and lots of treats given by scary witches and their gruesome friends. Come costumed or not - all are welcome but the best costumes may have their picture in the next Skyline newsletter!

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE UPCOMING CULTURAL SEASON INCLUDE...

Live Performances
LOUISIANAN PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA - Travel + Leisure Magazine voted New Orleans the #1 Music City In America saying "The birthplace of jazz wins the AFC survey for its legendary music scene, which includes blues, reggae, zydeco, and the Louisiana Philharmonic Orchestra." As the only musician-owned and collaboratively managed professional symphony in the United States, the members of the LPO are dedicated to creating live symphonic music and maintaining a resident full-time orchestra that serves as an integral part of the cultural and educational life of New Orleans and the Gulf South region. The LPO, led by Music Director Carlos Miguel Prieto, performs a full 36 week concert season featuring an array of Classics, Casual Classics, Spotlight, Family, Education, and Outreach concerts. This year's highlights include Beethoven's Symphony No. 5, Oct 7-8, 2010, Rachmaninov Symphonic Dances, Nov 4, 2010, two Holiday concerts - Yuletide Celebration, Dec 2, 2010 and A Baroque Christmas, Dec 16-17, 2010, and ending the year with The Music of Michael Jackson, May 28, 2011. LPO will also be premiering "The American Four Seasons," a newly commissioned piece by world-renowned New Orleans-born trumpeter Terence Blanchard on Feb 19, 2011. LPOmusic.com or call the box office at (504)523-6530.

NEW ORLEANS BALLET ASSOCIATION - Since 1969, NOBA has been serving and helping to advance the dance field for over 40 years with a mission to cultivate understanding, appreciation, and enjoyment of dance through performance, education, and community service. As one of the very few organizations of its kind in the country dedicated solely to dance, NOBA has been recognized by the National Endowment for the Arts, the President's Committee on the Arts and the Humanities and many more, for its innovative programming. This year's highlights include MOMIX, Oct 22-23, 2010, Lines Ballet, Jan 21-22, 2011, Trey McInyre Project, Feb 4, 2011, and Corella Ballet Castilla y Leon, May 14, 2011 to name a few. Nobadance.com or call the box office at (504)522-0996.

NEW ORLEANS OPERA ASSOCIATION - Founded in 1943, the New Orleans Opera Association is one of the oldest opera companies in America. Grand Opera comprises broad historical, social and geographical events and it is the purpose of the New Orleans Opera Association (NOOA) in producing opera to provide for the cultural enrichments of people of all ages without regard to racial or ethnic make-up, or physical or economic circumstances. The NOOA's mission is to produce opera of the highest musical and artistic caliber, especially by drawing on Louisiana's abundant artistic talent. This year's line up includes The Gershwins® Porgy & Bess, Oct 15 & 17, 2010, Mozart's The Magic Flute, Nov 19 & 21, 2010, Bizet's The Pearl Fishers, Jan 28 & 30, 2011, Verdi's Il Trovatore, April 1 & 3, 2011. Neworleansopera.org or call the box office at (504)529-3000.

BROADWAY ACROSS AMERICA - This year's performances include Cirque Dreams Illumination Sept 28-Oct 3, 2010, Rain A Tribute to the Beatles, Nov 3-7, 2010, Monty Python's Spamalot, Dec 14-17, 2010, The Color Purple, Feb 11-13, 2011, West Side Story, Mar 15-20, 2011, and Shrek the Musical, May 31-June, 2011. Broadway Across America performances are at the Mahalia Jackson Theater. Broadwayacrossamerica.com/cities/neworleans.html, call the ticket hotline at 1-800-218-7469, or emailNewOrleansService@BroadwayAcrossAmerica.com.

LE PETIT THEATRE DU VIEUX CARRE - One of the oldest and best-known community theatres in the U.S., Le Petit, at the corner of Chartres and St. Peter streets, has been performing in its current location since 1922. Under new management, Le Petit is offering a good mix of classic Broadway musicals and Tony Award-winning shows on the Main Stage, Off-Broadway hits on the Muriel's Cabaret Stage, new educational programming for young actors, new opportunities for young and emerging actors and playwrights, an innovative New Works Festival and the return of the much-loved Children's Corner series. The 2010-11 Le Petit lineup includes favorites such as Hairspray, Opening Sept 17, 2010 to Irving Berlin's White Christmas, Opening Dec 10, 2010 and Disney's High School Musical, Opening July 14, 2011. For a full schedule or more detailed information and tickets, call (504)522-2081 or (504)822-7200 or www.lepetittheatre.com.

Fine Art
NEW ORLEANS MUSEUM OF ART - To commemorate the fifth anniversary of Hurricane Katrina, the New Orleans Museum of Art will present an extraordinary exhibition: UNTITLED [NEW ORLEANS & THE GULF COAST 2005] Photographs by Richard Misrach, Aug 28 - Oct 24, 2010. The show features sixty-nine color photographs of messages that people scrawled on roofs and walls, cars and trucks, fences and trees following the flooding of the city. Arranged by Misrach in a powerful narrative sequence, the images express, as the artist has stated, "people pleading for help, then defending their turf, then suffering human loss, then animal loss, then despair, then humor, then anger at the political establishment, then anger at the insurance companies, and finally determination and hope to survive and perhaps recover." Based in California, Richard Misrach is a nationally/internationally acclaimed American photographer. He was one of the pioneers in the creation of large-scale color photographs. The artist personally selected five museums to receive the generous donation of this group of images: the Museum of Modern Art, New York, the National Gallery of Art, Washington D.C., the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, and the New Orleans Museum of Art. The artist will attend the premiere in New Orleans.

This is just a taste of what the 2010-2011 New Orleans cultural season has to offer so be sure to browse the materials and schedules offered by the many museums and arts organizations on hand to provide this information and sell season and/or event tickets before, after and throughout the performances.

A SAMPLING OF THE ORGANIZATIONS THAT WILL BE PARTICIPATING INCLUDE:
 Arts Council of New Orleans • Contemporary Arts Center • Jefferson Performing Arts Society • Le Chat Noir • Le Petit Theatre du Vieux Carre • Louisiana Artworks • Louisiana Philharmonic Orchestra • National World War II Museum • New Orleans Ballet Association • New Orleans Film Society • New Orleans Museum of Art • New Orleans Opera Association • Ogden Museum of Southern Art

Celebrate the cultcha! Celebrate the art! PLACE ST. CHARLES 17TH ANNUAL SALUTE TO THE ARTS is SEPTEMBER 30 from 11a.m. until 2 p.m. The event is free and open to the public. Come to 201 St. Charles, enjoy lunch, and enjoy being a part of the art, dawlin! For more information please call, (504)524-4444.

August 7 through September 27

MELTING LINES

Murielle Whites' oil paintings incorporate unexpected color combinations and unusual materials. Her inspiration is derived from her travels and visits to family in the Caribbean, Vietnam and Paris, while her imagery traverses cultural boundaries and conjures personal stories and biographies that are universal. In addition, there are urban motifs, references to maps, and personal script of her invention.

September 28 through November, 27

THE EDGE OF SPIRIT: A SELECTION OF DRAWINGS & MIXED MEDIA SCULPTURES

Artist Conversation: Saturday, October 2nd, 5pm

Artist Reception: 6 - 9pm

Donald Locke has had a long and accomplished career as a sculptor and painter. His Guyanese heritage, a mix of cultures including Amerindian, European, African and East African, has an underlying presence in his work. Locke gives some hint of the spiritual forces at work in ancient cultures using his powerful brush strokes and superior collage technique to create birds, monkeys and fish who peer from behind powerful spirit trees which reside in the deep recesses of our cultural memories.

November 27 through December 31

FIRE D UP

Artist Reception: Saturday, December 4, 2010, 6 - 9pm

Local artist, MaPo, brings a mixture of ancient and modern worlds and cultures has taken many years to perfect and is unique to this artist. The artists' love of traditional and contemporary Ghana art is evidenced by her use of transformational shapes, texture, organic form and architectural construction. MaPo's layering of rich color palates and mixed-media creates surfaces that are dynamic, unexpected and modern.

Manager's CORNER

Listed below is the status of ongoing upgrade projects at Place St. Charles:

Parking Garage Seal Coating - I want to thank everyone for their continued patience throughout the parking garage seal coating. The rain hindered our progress somewhat but the project is now complete.

Parking Garage Booth - A new and improved parking garage booth has been ordered and should be installed within the next 6 weeks. This will complete the improvements to the garage entrance at this time, and we hope each of you enjoy the new look. In addition, it is our goal in 2010 to provide updated parking gate equipment that will utilize a cardless system for ingress and egress.

Second Floor HVAC Unit - This project is also complete and working great. We should see vast improvement in the winter months on the first floor and in the food court.

Bathroom Upgrades - After the test bathroom on the 14th floor was completed, ownership was not 100% happy with the design. We anticipate having the redesign completed by October and will continue with the upgrade.

2011 will bring many new projects, all of which have not been identified quite yet as budgets are in progress.

New Director of Engineering is Hired - We are pleased to announce that Eric LeMaitre has been appointed to the position of Director of Engineering. Eric brings some 23+ years of experience in the engineering field to Place St. Charles. He previously was employed at the World Trade Center for the last 22 years. I am sure you will see Eric as he moves around the building.

We're very excited to have someone of Eric's caliber at Place St. Charles and at the helm of the Engineering Department.

"The greatest compliment we can receive is a referral from our friends and customers"
PIERRE'S FOR DIAMONDS

That's what the business card says and there's a big banner across the store saying the same thing. One thing is sure, Pierre Zee is serious about his work, his customers and his reputation. Located in Place St. Charles for over 11 years and in its current new, larger space for almost 2 years, Pierre's for Diamonds specializes in quality diamonds and manufacturing wedding sets from original designs. They are known for the finest quality diamonds at the lowest price. "You can't run all that expensive advertising and expect to beat our price. Word of mouth is what we rely on."

A summer job at age 15 started a career that has spanned over 30 years. Working with master jeweler Art Schmitt for 30+ years, Pierre's caters to the downtown business people - and by that he means everyone from lawyers to janitors, CEOs to bellhops. "All of them are my customers." When asked what was his favorite aspect of the business Pierre said, "All the people leave happy. It's not like I'm pulling teeth here. They want it, they buy it and they all leave happy." To this day the shop in Place St. Charles manufactures and repairs jewelry for both individuals and some of the finest retail jewelers in the city. All of their work is 100% guaranteed and the work is done on the premises.

With the new larger space, the shop has expanded its offerings into more affordable silver jewelry and gifts. There is a wide array of one-of-a-kind designer silver pieces as well as a fine assortment of pewter, candles, cookbooks, crystal and china pieces suitable for birthday, secretary's day or even wedding presents. The shop specializes in expert jewelry and watch repairs, and ring sizing. They also buy old jewelry - gold, platinum and silver, coins, and antique and estate jewelry. For more information, call Pierre directly at (504)525-8633 or pierresfordiamonds.com.
